

Title I Park

Park has a tiered system of academic support for students needing additional time and support to learn critical reading and math skills. This support is the result of a coordinated effort among the various resources available to our school--our district's general budget and from state and federal dollars determined by the number of students receiving free/reduced lunch, the number receiving English as a second language services, and those receiving Special Education services. Title 1 is an important revenue source for this system. Core instruction in literacy and math is supported with additional paraprofessionals in the classroom. Additionally, eligible students receive one or more interventions specific to their need during the school day. One of our district's Core Values is All Students Learn. We are working hard to ensure that all of our students will learn how to be proficient readers by designing literacy and math instruction suited to each child.
